improve your living

With knowledge about our needs for rest and movement, as well as for using modern technology, we design chairs that will make your everyday life better and easier.

The functionality in the chairs is customized to suit your need for ergonomics and your body's need for rest and movement. We transcend the barriers, and through the knowledge and expertise in design and function, we challenge the possibilities in every part of the furniture.

The modern living room will not only accommodate your needs for tranquility and rest but also to have a place for social gatherings. Social meeting points have been an important inspiration in our quest to develop the ultimate sitting solution. The way we meet and get together, has gradually changed. We therefore believe in creating a furniture concept that brings people together in a completely different way, by the interaction between people, the interior and new technology.

We have a clear goal when we design furniture

contura design:

Svein Asbjørnsen SAP design

With focus on my understanding of technology and my insight into human anatomy, I wanted to design a chair that reflects the movement of the body. Function through technological innovation and with a structural form, the Contura is a furniture of the future. A visually stimulating and challenging design.

Fjords® Contura The best position for relaxation is to have the legs higher than the heart. This relieves your back and promotes increased blood circulation. Contura smoothly reflects and follows your body's movements, which offers you an optimal comfort. The selected leather is of the highest quality.

baloo design:

Olav Eldøy

Baloo is inspired by the 1960s. The natural lines and geometric shapes give Baloo a solid expression. Nevertheless, the chair is light in its characteristics and easy to move.

Fjords® Baloo With plenty of room for your arms and with Fjords® renowned comfort, Baloo will offer you a great comfort. You can choose from a variety of different leathers. Baloo rotates 360 degrees and has a rocking function.

Leather

Astro Line - semi-aniline: Although the term is often used as if the leather would be only partially dyed, it actually means that the color is only part of the process. In semi-aniline leather pigments are easily applied to the surface to compensate for irregularities, make natural features less visible and make the leather more cleanable. It is more durable than the natural aniline leather. Astro Line leather is thicker than other furniture leather, but still retains its natural softness and excellent durability.

Soft Line - exhibits the incomparable softness and Naturalness that we associate with comfort. Soft Line leather is treated with a thin protective finish that protects against stains and makes it resistant to moisture. Soft Line is ideal for families who want high-quality leather furniture, but do not want to worry about the durability and cleanability of the furniture.

Nordic Line - is a fully protected top grain leather which undergoes a complex treatment. The finished product is not sensitive to moisture and sunlight. The protection makes Nordic Line leather stain resistant and durable. Daily maintenance can be kept to a minimum. The best choice if the furniture is used a lot.

Fabrics

Fjords® offers for selected models different fabrics in different colors and patterns. All our fabrics are tested according to European standards and for high Duty applications.

Microfiber

Microfiber fabric is treated anti-static, water and oil repellent and therefore resistant to dirt and stains. The combination of fiber material makes it extremely durable and provides a very high level of comfort.

All leather and fabrics are available in different colors
